

Our universe is dominated by four forces (sometimes called as interactions), which decides how it should evolve. They are as follows:

- Strong force
- Weak force
- Electromagnetic (EM)
- Gravitational

Each of these has a robust theory behind it, explaining its origin and strong experimental evidences in its support. We are more interested in electromagnetic force, Maxwell's theory (which explains EM phenomenon), its spectrum and radio waves.